Roosevelt Road ramp and Ruble Street closures at Jane Byrne

CHICAGO – The Illinois Department of Transportation announced today that as part of ongoing Jane Byrne Interchange reconstruction, Ruble Street from Roosevelt Road to Taylor Street will close for approximately one week, weather permitting, starting at 5 a.m. Monday, April 25.

A detour will direct Ruble Street traffic to Jefferson Street to connect to the Taylor Street entrance ramp to access the inbound Dan Ryan Expressway (Interstate 90/94)

The entrance ramp from Roosevelt Road to the outbound Eisenhower Expressway (Interstate 290) and to inbound Ida B. Wells Drive will also be closed. A detour will direct traffic to Roosevelt Road to Ashland Avenue to connect to the outbound Eisenhower via the Ashland Avenue ramp. Motorists will connect to the inbound Ida B. Wells via State Street.

The closures are necessary for electrical work and installation of two new high mast light towers.

Motorists should expect significant delays and allow extra time for trips through this area. Drivers are urged to pay close attention to flaggers and signs in the work zones, obey the posted speed limits and be on the alert for workers and equipment.

The overall reconstruction project at the Jane Byrne Interchange will improve safety and traffic flow for the more than 400,000 motorists who use it each day, while also enhancing mobility for bicyclists, pedestrians and transit users in the surrounding neighborhoods.

The improved Jane Byrne Interchange will be substantially completed by the end of this year.
