

Illinois Route 3 Connector Project Environmental Resources

The project study area has a number of important environmental resources and environmentally sensitive locations including wetlands, floodplain, state and federally threatened plants, and properties that may contain special waste.

