The term “Today’s Challenge, Tomorrow’s Reward” has never applied more than it does now. With all the uncertainties revolving around the latest legal challenges and all of the changes that resulted from last autumn’s Interim Final Rule, we are glad to once again provide TCTR as an event where you can learn best practices, discover how to navigate the latest regulations, develop new leadership skills and network with others on the same or similar path. We are here to serve, listen, and help you throughout the year. And we would be honored if you would join us at this year’s TCTR.
